Galloway Township, NJ - The Richard Stockton College of New Jersey will host a free lecture on Saturday, October 20 by Dr. Thomas Tartaron of the University of Pennsylvania, as part of the Classical Humanities Society of South Jersey's Fall series.

Dr Tartaron's speech, "The Harbor of Agamemnon? The Discovery and Investigation of a Lost Harbor Town in Greece" will examine findings of his studies and the major archaeological projects he has worked on involving the Greek past. This research centers on the recently discovered Mycenaean harbor town at Kalamianos, south of Corinth.

The free event will be held from 12 to 2 p.m. on Saturday, October 20, in room F-111 on the Galloway campus. This and all Classical Humanities Society events are free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be provided.

For more information, call Professor Katherine Panagakos at 609-652-4618 or email Katherine.panagakos@stockton.edu.
